FIRST STEP IN THE WILD

FOREST

It was born from the need of our customers to find a natural parquet, of European origin and able to have a range of colors for every need at a reasonable price. We want to offer you wooden floors that enhance the distinctive aspects of your home, rich in character and capable of reflecting your personal style even better

The Forest catalogue was designed for real estate professionals who wish to offer elegant solutions such as parquet, an element that increases the value and aesthetics of the accommodation, much appreciated by customers looking for luxury properties. Forest is designed to combine aesthetics needs, environmental sustainability and durability, offering a guarantee of quality over time, supported by European certifications of excellence. Using a product of European origin guarantees total control of the supply chain, from cutting the trunk to finishing, ensuring the highest European standards of quality and safety for the people who will live the parquet floor.

The challenge was to find the best product in terms of quality, offering a fair compromise between excellence and control of production costs. With our Forest catalogue, we have achieved the goal we set ourselves

The catalogue is divided into two collections:

Rock collection: available in five colors, it has a single long plank format and a single selection, ideal for environments that require uniformity and elegance.

Gentleman collection: offered in two colors and three selections, three different formats are visible on a single board, designed to give movement and visual dynamism to the floor.

TRUE SUSTAINABILITY FOR TREES

In the forests of Southern Norway, before the tree reaches the end of its natural cycle, we give it a second life by transforming it into a beautiful wooden floor for your home.

At the same time, we plant a new generation of trees. And when your parquet reaches the end of its life, many years from now, it can be recycled, thus completing the sustainability cycle.

OUR EXCEPTIONAL PARQUETS

We want to bring nature into your home: calm and naturalness are increasingly important values. Nature is the source of inspiration for all our choices.

Today, naturalness, harmony with the environment, tranquility and sustainability play a crucial role. This is why we are dedicated to offering you the pure and authentic sensation of wood. Discover our products!

SUSTAINABILITY AND CERTIFICATIONS

Our parquet is made from natural materials, showing how much we care about the environment and being eco-friendly. We always try to work with suppliers who handle raw materials responsibly.

Right now, more than 95% of the materials we use come from European forests that are part of reforestation programs and certified by groups like FSC™. We stay in touch with environmental groups and invest in new tech to keep cutting down on waste.

We only use wood from forests that are managed in a sustainable way, making sure they can grow back over time. Our aim is to have all our raw materials certified. We're serious about sustainable production and we make sure our whole supply chain is tracked and certified. We're also looking into using local woods instead of exotic ones, because it's better for the planet.

We make products that are safe for both the environment and people. The glues and finishes we use don't release harmful gases or dangerous stuff.

Our multilayer wood flooring saves a lot of resources compared to solid wood floors, since it only uses high-quality wood for the top layer. About 60% of our parquet is made from spruce and pine. The leftover sawdust and shavings are reused to heat our facilities, power drying ovens, or make fuel pellets.

FSC is an international certification specific to the forestry sector and to products—both wood-based and non-wood-based—derived from forests.

The label for low-emission and low-polluting products signifies a safer environment for customers and their families.

The CE marking is a mandatory conformity label for many products placed on the European Economic Area (EEA) market

The Blue Angel is an internationally recognized environmental label issued by the German Federal Ministry for the Environment.

The Real Wood logo is used exclusively by manufacturers authorized by the European Federation of the Parquet Industry (FEP).

ISO 14001 certification attests to the highest standards of safety and exemplary environmental performance

The FDES certification process involves assessing the entire life cycle of the product.

It is the most prestigious certification program for indoor air quality related to flooring materials.

The accompanying technical data sheets will be used for the certification of individual products.

PLANK COMPOSITION

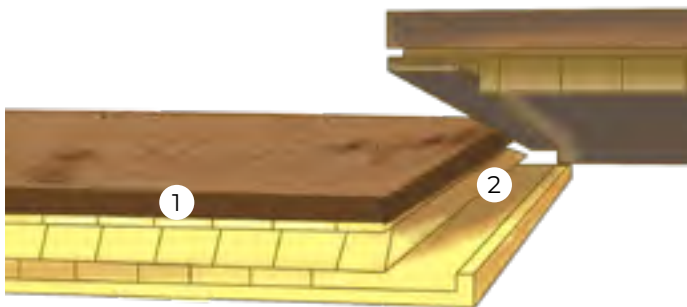

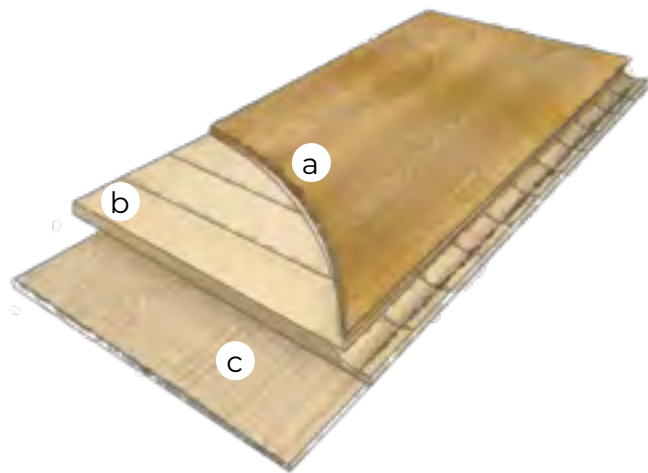

Natural features such as cracks and knots in the wood are intentionally preserved and hand-filled with a black filler. The result is an oak floor that appears genuinely authentic, allowing one to perceive its true character. This approach creates a remarkably original surface—minimal in appearance yet extraordinary in essence. A sensory experience that engages both touch and sight

We offer a 3-layer engineered parquet with a click-lock system—an excellent choice for creating fresh, modern interiors.

Top layer in noble wood: We use sustainably sourced European hardwoods exclusively for the top wear layer. (a)

Middle layer: Made of high-quality quarter-sawn spruce slats that ensure excellent dimensional stability. (b)

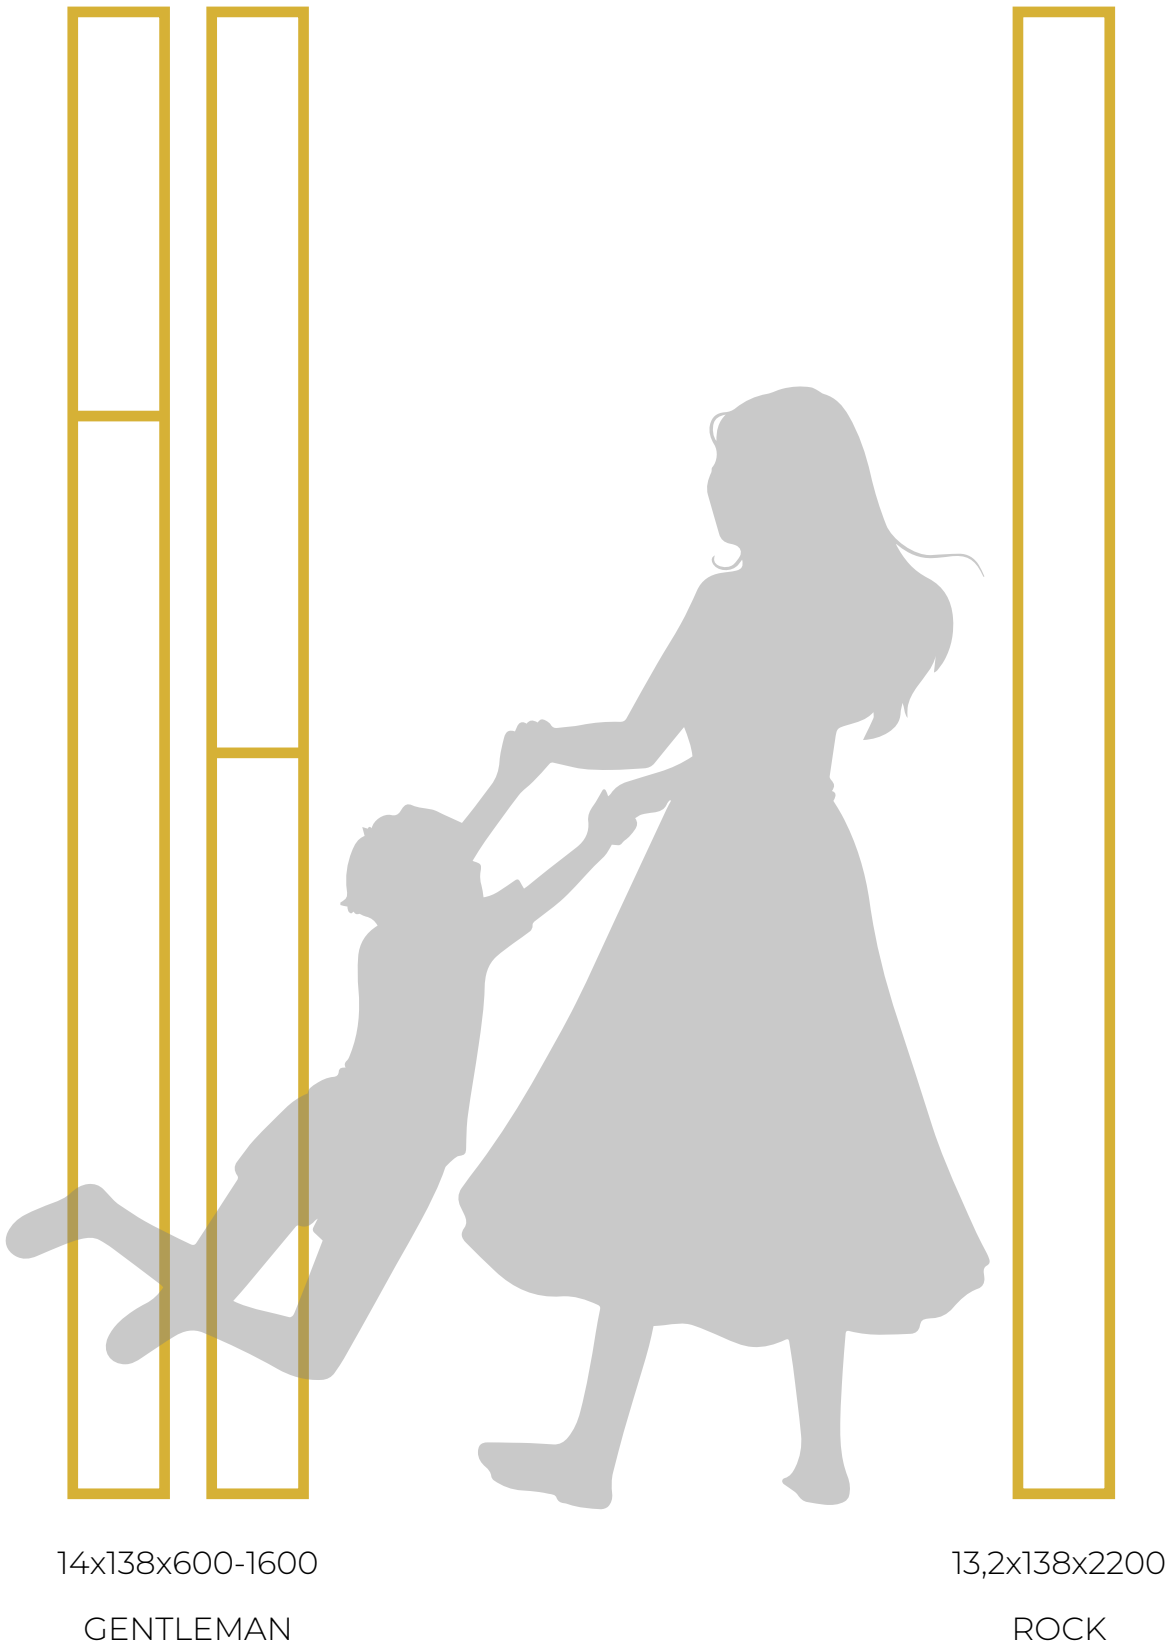

Stabilising layer: A single-piece rotary-cut spruce backing for enhanced structural integrity. (c)

1. Along the long edge, the click system securely connects the planks.
2. 5G Click: Each plank can be independently pressed down and locked into position

Installation system: A 5G Click locking system has been selected for its quick and efficient installation technology. This is the ideal option for floating installation, allowing for easier and faster fitting of individual planks without the need for additional tools. The audible “click” when the boards lock into place confirms proper installation. The system is also suitable for glue-down installation on subfloors.

(dimensions expressed in mm)

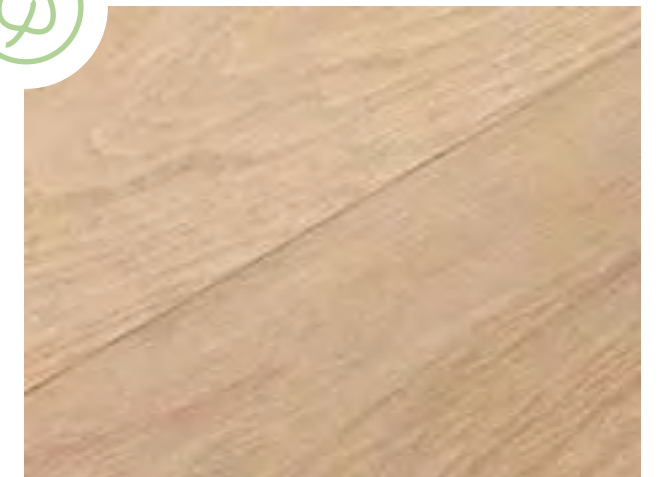

Authentic, original, and clean: Classic oak-toned planks bring a light and airy feeling to any space, while creating a simple yet elegant and welcoming atmosphere.

FINISHES

We care deeply about protecting the environment at every step of our production. None of the paints or oils we use release harmful substances for people or the planet. We offer a range of high-quality surface finishes that enhance the look and feel of the parquet.

Pure Varnish

This innovative finish gives the wood a super natural look while minimizing color shift. It protects the parquet from dirt buildup and provides great resistance to UV rays. Pure creates a thin protective layer that shields the wood from dust, dirt, and spills.

Matt Varnish

This six-layer sealing treatment has a low-sheen, “oiled-look” finish. It keeps the surface looking natural while offering great scratch resistance and long-lasting durability.

SURFACE FINISHES & GRADES

The Forest line stands out for its brushed finish, which brings out the natural texture of the wood. Every grain and line is highlighted to give a unique look and an elegant feel to the touch. The beveled edges add depth and definition to each plank, blending classic style with a modern vibe.

There’s no such thing as “perfect” wood in nature—its knots, lines, and quirks are exactly what make it beautiful and real. Without those natural features, you’d end up with something that looks fake, taking away its true charm. That said, wood grading is still helpful for getting a clear idea of how your floor will look once installed.

It’s also good to know that by regulation, up to 3% of any delivery can include boards from a different grade than the one you ordered.

For the Forest collection, we use a flexible grading style that we’ve divided into three categories: Andante, Animoso, and Vivo. Each one has its own personality—check them out to see which suits your space best!

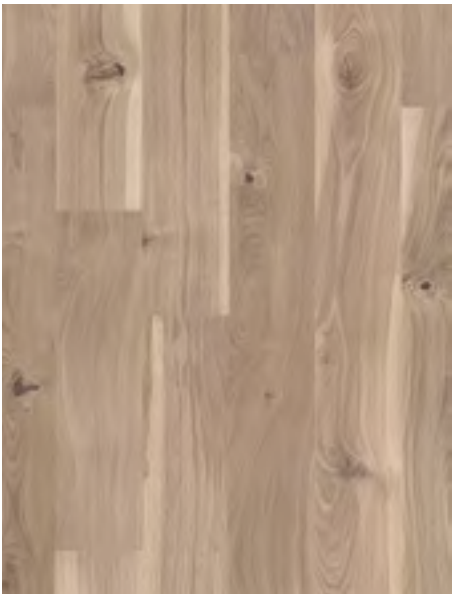

Andante

Straight grain, wide grain, light flame pattern, and no knots.

Animoso

A natural look with small to medium knots; color variation caused by the mix of heartwood and sapwood.

Vivo

Strong flame patterns, including darker ones; large open knots and visible sapwood.

A WIDE RANGE OF FINISHES

Discover our Gentleman series—designed to offer timeless elegance and unmatched versatility in any interior setting. This collection stands out for its refined classification into three distinct appearance grades, allowing each customer to personalize their space with a unique and distinctive style. The palette remains intentionally limited yet sophisticated, with each shade carefully selected to enhance the natural beauty of the wood and blend seamlessly into any environment.

The boards feature a joint available in two heights—600 mm or 1100 mm—depending on production specifications, offering a dynamic and visually engaging layout for your space.

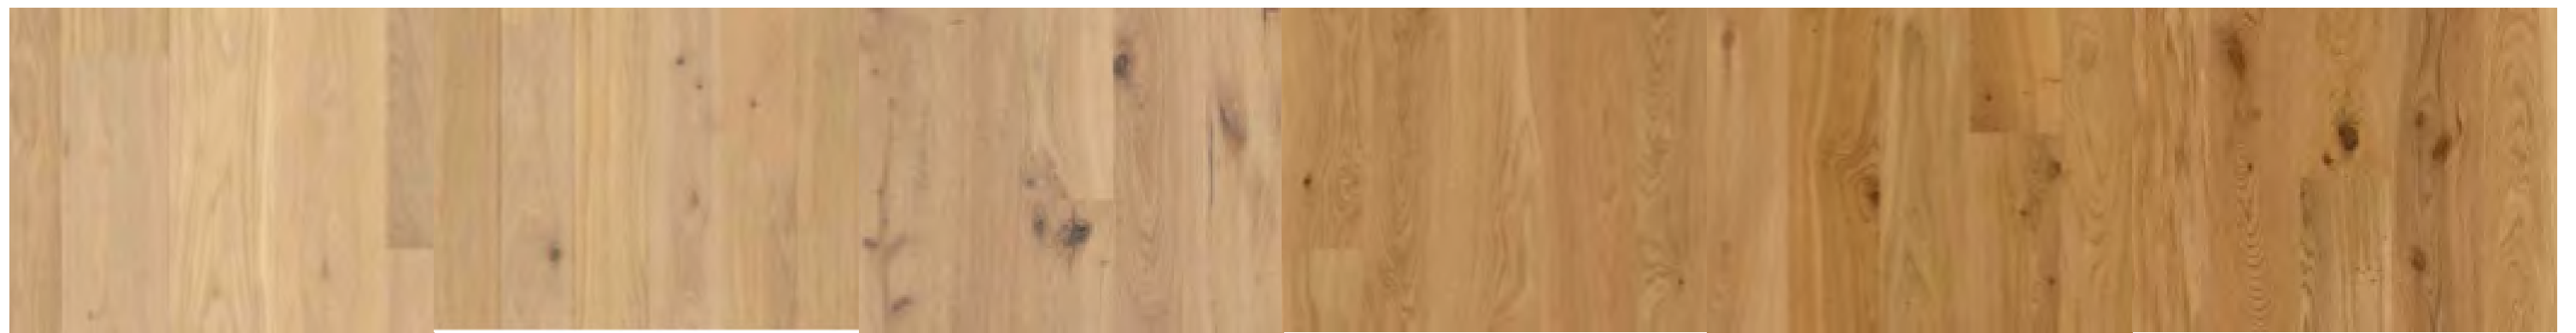

GENTLEMAN

Crafted with a 3.5 mm solid wood top layer, each board offers superior strength and extended durability. This generous thickness allows for multiple refinishing cycles over time, preserving the floor's natural beauty—even in high-traffic environments. Ideal for both residential and commercial applications, the collection integrates seamlessly into a wide range of interior design projects, from contemporary living rooms to refined restaurant settings. The flooring provides a warm and welcoming foundation, subtly enhancing every creative concept with timeless sophistication.

Fully compatible with underfloor heating systems, the parquet delivers uniform, comfortable warmth throughout the year, meeting the needs of modern, energy-efficient living. Available in three visual lengths—600 mm, 1100 mm, and 1600 mm—the boards enable dynamic, modular layout options. Additionally, joint height may vary depending on production (600 mm or 1100 mm), adding an extra layer of movement and originality to the installation. This flexibility opens up countless design possibilities, transforming the flooring into an architectural element that actively shapes the space—not just a surface, but part of its expressive identity.

With this collection, every space becomes a work of art, where functionality and design converge without compromise. Choosing our parquet means investing in a long-lasting floor that resists daily wear while preserving its natural beauty over time. It's an elegant solution that marries timeless aesthetics with everyday comfort, offering a tactile and visual experience that elevates the ambiance of any interior. Every step becomes a moment of refined quality, in a space that reflects your personal style, taste, and attention to detail. This flooring adapts effortlessly—turning surfaces into statements.
